

The "O" Division RCMP has been providing federal policing services in Ontario since 1920. The federal policing mandate does not afford as much visibility as our municipal and provincial policing partners, but we are just as active in our efforts to keep Canada and Canadians safe with a focus on national and border security, financial integrity, and organized crime.

Federal policing responsibilities give rise to long-term, complex and labour intensive projects which focus on national and border security, financial integrity, and organized crime. The support of our policing partners and the development of multi-disciplinary teams contributes to the efficiency and effectiveness of our efforts. This partnership concept has evolved into the 'integrated' policing model that is characteristic of the RCMP today.
